

Tribal Climate Resilience Annual Awards Program

The Tribal Climate Resilience Annual Awards Program provides competitive funding to federally-recognized Tribes and Tribal organizations to build climate resilience capacity.

The Branch of Tribal Climate Resilience (TCR) provides financial support for federally-recognized Tribal Nations and authorized Tribal organizations through a competitive funding opportunity to build Tribal resilience capacity. Since 2011, TCR has distributed over 900 awards totaling more than $110 million. In FY 2022, TCR awarded approximately $46 million in funding through President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure Law and FY 2022 annual appropriations.

The Tribal Climate Resilience Annual Awards Program supports both planning and implementation projects, including for climate adaptation planning, community-led relocation, managed retreat (ie, partial relocation), protect-in-place efforts, ocean and coastal management, as well as for habitat restoration and adaptation.

You can view a map with information on Tribes' and Tribal organization's previously funded projects on the Tribal Climate Resilience Annual Awards Dashboard.

Fiscal Year 2023 Annual Awards Program

On July 19, 2023, the Department of the Interior announced the Fiscal Year 2023 BIA TCR Annual Awards Program investment in Tribal communities (press release). TCR will make available approximately $120 million in funding for Tribes and tribal organizations to address the unique impacts of climate change affecting vulnerable tribal communities. This is by far the largest amount of annual funding made available in the history of the Bureau of Indian Affairs' Tribal Climate Resilience Annual Awards Program.

Award categories and requirements have changed. Please review the 2023 TCR Annual Awards solicitation.

For the FY 2023 Tribal Climate Annual Awards Program, applications can be submitted online via the TCR Annual Awards Program Application Portal. Learn how from our How to Apply guide.

For help submitting your annual award application, a Grant Writing Workshop covering the fundamentals of writing a competitive funding proposal is available on July 26, 2023.

An Informational Webinar will be hosted on August 2, 2023 by the Institute for Tribal Environmental Professionals (ITEP) Tribes and Climate Change Program. The webinar will be recorded and archived on the Institute for Tribal Environmental Professionals \(ITEP\) website. Following the webinar, TCR will update the slides with new questions asked during the webinar.

For questions regarding the TCR Annual Awards Program, see our Contact Guide for who to contact in your region.

What Would You Like to Do?

Top Tasks

Read the FY 2023 Annual Awards Solicitation

Apply Online with the TCR Annual Awards Application Portal

Read FY 2023 TCR Annual Awards Program FAQs

All Other Tasks

How to Apply for Tribal Climate Resilience Annual Awards

Read the FY 2023 Press Release

Guidance on Who to Contact

View Previous Award Summaries and Solicitations

View the TCR Annual Awards Dashboard

Watch Informational Webinars

Events

Grant Writing Workshop

This workshop will cover the fundamentals of writing a competitive funding proposal so that your grant writing efforts are more effective and bring in more dollars. This presentation is intended for Tribal staff, intertribal organizations, or tribal citizens with an emphasis on climate change programming (vulnerability assessments, adaptation planning, or risk assessments). This 90 minute workshop is interactive with open Q&A. Information presented will be relevant for other funding opportunities.

- Wednesday
- July 26, 2023
9:30 AM – 11:00 AM PDT

FY23 Annual Awards Program FAQ Webinar: Tribal Climate Resilience Program

Learn about available Bureau of Indian Affairs Branch of Tribal Climate Resilience funding to support Tribal adaptation planning and preparedness, capacity building, youth and implementation activities. The Annual Awards Program seeks to help Tribes address climate change impacts, ocean and coastal resource management, and relocation, managed retreat, and protect-in-place issues and decision-making processes.

- Wednesday
- August 2, 2023
11:00 AM – 12:30 PM PDT

U.S. Department of the Interior
Indian Affairs

Grant Writing Workshop

This workshop will cover the fundamentals of writing a competitive funding proposal so that your grant writing efforts are more effective and bring in more dollars. This presentation is intended for Tribal staff, intertribal organizations, or tribal citizens with an emphasis on climate change programming (vulnerability assessments, adaptation planning, or risk assessments). This 90 minute workshop is interactive with open Q&A. Information presented will be relevant for other funding opportunities.

Click Here to Join the Meeting

Call in +1 202-640-1187

Phone conference ID 202 963 431#

Event Details

July 26, 2023

9:30 AM – 11:00 AM PDT

Join Virtual Event

This workshop will cover the fundamentals of writing a competitive funding proposal so that your grant writing efforts are more effective and bring in more dollars. This presentation is intended for Tribal staff, intertribal organizations, or tribal citizens with an emphasis on climate change programming (vulnerability assessments, adaptation planning, or risk assessments). This 90 minute workshop is interactive with open Q&A. Information presented will be relevant for other funding opportunities.

FY23 Annual Awards Program FAQ Webinar: Tribal Climate Resilience Program

Join us to learn more about this funding opportunity and to ask questions. The webinar is free and will be recorded.

Purpose

Learn about available Bureau of Indian Affairs Branch of Tribal Climate Resilience funding to support Tribal adaptation planning and preparedness, capacity building, youth and implementation activities. The Annual Awards Program seeks to help Tribes address climate change impacts, ocean and coastal resource management, and relocation, managed retreat, and protect-in-place issues and decision-making processes.

For more information, contact Kelsey.Morales@nau.edu

Event Details

August 2, 2023

11:00 AM – 12:30 PM PDT

Learn about available Bureau of Indian Affairs Branch of Tribal Climate Resilience funding to support Tribal adaptation planning and preparedness, capacity building, youth and implementation activities. The Annual Awards Program seeks to help Tribes address climate change impacts, ocean and coastal resource management, and relocation, managed retreat, and protect-in-place issues and decision-making processes.

Register