We know a lot of our members feel affordable housing and community development is a significant need in their area and would like to participate in FHLBank Indianapolis grant programs. Nevertheless, the world of affordable housing and community development can be complicated, daunting and unpredictable.

With increased funding, program opportunities and the ability to do more this year, we are excited to continue offering the Community Catalyst Training Series where our members can send staff to gain a better understanding of affordable housing and community development and how they can better support their communities through our grant programs.

In this session, you will learn from peer financial institutions about their processes and support for the Affordable Housing Program (AHP).
